

Sight Picture Diagram

Since the human eye is normally able to focus only on one plane, and there are three active planes used in pistol shooting, shooters should focus strongly on the front sight of their firearm. The rear sight and target will become blurry as indicated in the diagram below.

